

Degenkolb commits to Taylor University

By Justin Albers (jmalbers@indiana.edu)

Tipton guard Mason Degenkolb has committed to Taylor University.

The 2016 guard also had interest from Lipscomb, Indiana Wesleyan, Massachusetts-Lowell and SIU-Edwardsville, but ultimately decided that Taylor was the right place for him.

“Taylor felt like home from the first day they recruited me,” Degenkolb told IndianaElite.com. “Coach Andrews and his staff are amazing, and the campus is less than an hour away from home. Academically, Taylor is ranked No. 1 in the Midwest according to the U.S. News and World Report. Overall, I feel like I can really grow as a person at Taylor and be a very successful NAIA player in my four years.”